

4-5 Grave concern

TUC research shows more people die each year of asbestos cancers than die in road traffic accidents. Asbestos cancers are set to be the single largest cause of male cancer deaths.

6-7 Workers' Memorial Day

28 April 2001 is Workers' Memorial Day. This year unions and campaigners nationwide will be highlighting Britain's growing asbestos scandal.

8-13 News in brief

Big business must come clean. Cigarettes smokescreen. Unethical business. Tories silly plan to axe HSE. Employer stress. Hardening arteries. Dead at the desk. Protecting pregnancies. What price on your life? Class struggles, child labour.

14-15 No more working weak?

Genetic screening could be coming to a workplace near you. The TUC calls for a ban on this discriminatory, immoral and scientifically suspect alternative to safe workplaces.

16-17 Organise!

You know the job's dangerous, but what can you do? Hazards looks at how unions can organise to ensure the workplace is safe.

18-19 Chemicals charade

The US chemical industry is set to scupper a global "responsible care" programme for chemical safety. Unions take up the challenge. President Bush and his poisonous policies.

20-25 What the unions say

Extreme monitoring. Screeching headsets. End the construction carnage. What's a rep to do? Safety rep training win. Stop whingeing, CBI. Union training boost. The Hazards Questionnaire. Partner me. Bad partner. Collar Cape plc. Businessmen behaving badly.

26-31 Resources

Events, reviews, A-Z of recent HSE and HSC publications.
