

contents

4-5 In sickness and in work

Sickness absence rates are the lowest on record and a TUC survey shows we have the unhealthy habit of working when sick. So why are bosses calling for a clampdown on "malingerers"? And why is a visit to the doctor portrayed as shirking? Simon Pickvance reports.

6-9 News in brief

Doesn't it make you angry, HSE? HSE faces Commons probe. Work hurts, no bones about it. Minister's wrong smoke signals. Businessmen behaving badly. Amicus wins safety rep time off. Clergy rights get closer to good. Employers play a deadly game. Workers see more screen problems. What price on your life?

10-11 Selling death

The global asbestos industry blocked a deal that would have made it more difficult to unload asbestos on the developing world. It bought scientists and column inches in national papers. And it is killing hundreds of thousands each year. A Hazards report.

14-15 Dirty secrets of the cleanrooms

There are serious concerns about the long term health impact of the microelectronics industry worldwide. Leslie Byster and Ted Smith, veteran campaigners from California's Silicon Valley, have seen the future – and it's hazardous.

16-17 Be annoying!

Hazards pays tribute to Alan Dalton, Britain's top safety and environmental troublemaker.

Centrepages Stop snooping

New technology – from body part scanners to surveillance devices to lab tests – means the boss can now monitor us for supposed defects or aberrant behaviour, from what we say to what our genes say. But a new privacy code may soon change all that.

20-29 What the unions say

Jail for "utterly reckless" killer boss. More delays for work killing law. Australia's killer call. Canadian unions win work deaths law. Workers' Memorial Day 2004. It's official – life is cheap. Euro support for TUC hours campaign. DTI wrong on hours says DTI. Seafarers launch fatigue action. Modern management is bad for you. Make the boss own up to accidents. Safety warning over contracting out. Hazards Questionnaire. TUC fears on crime victims move. Unions become safety enforcers. Sober workers fired. Union chemical escape route.

30-34 Resources

Publications, online resources, events and latest news from HSE.

36 Workers' Memorial Day, 28 April 2004

Tear-off-and-use poster for your local Workers' Memorial Day events – because safe work is a right, not a privilege.

Killing people at work?
There should be a law against it.

Campaign against workplace safety criminals
www.hazards.org/deadlybusiness

Hazards Magazine published quarterly issue 85
January-March 2004
ISSN 0267 7296

editor Rory O'Neill
editor@hazards.org

subscription
inquiries or orders:
Jawad Qasrawi
tel: 0114 235 2074
email: sub@hazards.org

Cover: Ned Jolliffe Ned is an illustrator from London. His work appears in top political and trade union journals.
email: nedj@dircon.co.uk
web: www.eyecandy.co.uk

designed by Eve Barker
tel: 020 7485 0476
ebarker@nildram.co.uk

printed by Russell Press
tel: 0115 978 4505

Hazards
PO Box 199
Sheffield S1 4YL, England
www.hazards.org

HAZARDS MAGAZINE IS

SUPPORTED BY THE TUC AS A KEY

SOURCE OF INFORMATION FOR UNION

SAFETY REPS

Hazards

HAZARDS IS AN EDITORIALY

INDEPENDENT HEALTH AND SAFETY

MAGAZINE PUBLISHED BY HAZARDS

PUBLICATIONS LTD, WHICH IS SOLELY

RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CONTENTS.

FREE IN THIS ISSUE!
CORPORATE CRIME UPDATE No.8